Employee Benefits & Pensions Reform 2012

Over the last twelve months the provision of employee benefits and workplace pensions has been greatly affected by changes both in legislation and economic conditions. Failing to account for some of these changes can have a costly effect on company benefit spends and create disadvantages when attempting to recruit, retain and motivate staff.

Furthermore, from October 2012, employers will have to begin complying with the UK's workplace pensions reform. For many, this will be a costly exercise and one that will require considerable preparation and planning.

Our October seminar will provide a review of employee benefits and pensions in the UK and address a number of important issues that employers will need to consider and act upon now and in the near future.

What we will be covering:

Employee Benefits

- Why benefits are important
- How much should you spend on them?
- Key priorities for the coming year
- The most popular benefits in the UK
- Topical issues around healthcare and risk benefits
- The future of employee benefits

Pensions

- Changes to pensions in 2011
- A look at how UK pensions compare to Europe
- Auto-enrolment and 2012 pensions reform

If you would like to attend this seminar, please complete the Seminar Registration Form on the other side and respond to us by 18th October 2011 (Tues) by email (yoshiko.komamine@3hrfc.com). Space is limited so please register early to avoid disappointment.
