Speakers	:	May Cheung, LLB (Hons), Immigration Consultant

As we are entering 2011, most employers have just about come to grips with their sponsorship licences and the surrounding requirements that were introduced since 2008. But immigration rules and process have not stopped to evolve since the introduction of the Points-Based System. A topic of heated political debate, recent as well as forthcoming amendments make UK immigration law an increasingly complex area to navigate through safely. So with new changes about to be introduced in April, how are you making sure that you are getting it right?

Our February Seminar will provide an overview and update of your responsibilities as a company when employing migrant workers.

Subjects to be covered:

- Sponsorship licence and licence ratings
- Sponsor's duties
- Prevention of illegal employments
- Forthcoming changes in immigration law

If you would like to attend this Free Seminar, please complete the Seminar Registration Form on the other side and respond to us by 18th February 2011 (Fri) by email (mari.yoshinaga@3hrplc.co.uk). Space is limited so please apply early to avoid disappointment.
